If you are searching for an authentic country home that offers peace, charm and space in equal measure, your search ends here. Tucked away on the quiet outskirts of Mudamiento (a village so small it barely has outskirts), this beautifully maintained townhouse is a hidden gem. The house has been significantly updated in the last couple of years and is presented in impeccable condition throughout. It is a true 'Tardis' home a modest from the outside, but remarkably spacious inside. There are three bedrooms, a generous family bathroom and an additional shower room, along with two living rooms, a vast farmhouse-style kitchen and a huge multi-functional living/dining/recreational area originally a barn, now perfect for entertaining or relaxing in comfort. One section of the house has even been pre-installed with cabling and features to be converted into a home cinema room, offering the ideal space to enjoy movie nights in total privacy. Upstairs, you will find a south-facing solarium that offers sun all day and sweeping views over the surrounding farmland and nearby mountains. Although the plot is compact and there's no traditional garden, the property boasts a charming internal courty...
