This property has so much potential and is definitely a project for someone! Can easily be converted into a bed and breakfast/commercial unit with living accommodation or split accommodation for three generations. Beautiful double dwelling townhouse family home, this property stretches across two streets with two entrances, one at the rear and one at the front in Benijofar, hence your facing north and south. The back entrance has a bedroom and toilet downstairs then you walk upstairs to first floor where there is an open plan kitchen, with room for a dining room or seating area, as you have a balcony with a beautiful view, along the long corridor there is a utility room, walk in dressing room with shower room, further along the corridor you also have a room which could be another bedroom with a shower room. The garage has internal entry or it could be made into another room or shop (which it was originally) with commercial licence. Up to the second flight of stairs you have a large sitting room with dining area, double sink large bathroom, very spacious kitchen with fireplace, three double bedrooms with fitted wardrobes, the master bedroom is huge with a balcony overlooking the coun...
