This traditional townhouse offers breathtaking views and is situated in the charming neighbourhood of Ciudad Quesada. Conveniently located just a short walk away from various bars and shops, this home boasts 4 well-appointed bedrooms. Two of these bedrooms are situated on the ground floor, while the other two are located in a separate apartment on the top floor. In addition, there are 2 bathrooms throughout the property. Just of the outside patio down a few steps you can find plenty of storage. The upper floor of this townhouse features a separate apartment, as previously mentioned. This apartment includes 2 bedrooms, 1 bathroom, a spacious living room-kitchen area, and a terrace with exquisite views of the mountains and sea. The house comes partially furnished and includes air conditioning in select areas for added comfort. Additionally, residents have access to a large communal pool which is free to use. One notable advantage of living in this townhouse is that there are no community fees. The only expense is the yearly council tax (IBI) of €157.00. This townhouse is perfect for investors, rental opportunities, or as a family home. It boast...
