Stylish new-build resale in showroom condition. Cheaper than buying same property off-plan from developer! With its double-height living room, walls of glass windows and views to the salt lakes this house offers something truly special. Bought off-plan by the current owners it is only a few years old and remains in perfect condition. You can still buy the same house in this location from the developer but it will cost you more and you will have a lengthy wait for completion. Plus the owners have added many upgrades. So with this house you really are getting more for less. The villa is set in a gated private road. As you enter into the property you find yourself in an L-shaped garden complete with pool, shaded covered seating area and room for parking. Move into the main living area and you cannot fail to be impressed by the soaring ceilings, crystal chandeliers and walls of glass. Large patio doors slide open to give you seamless indoor/outdoor living. A state-of-the-art kitchen opens onto a dining and a living area, with the feeling of space and light accentuated by the glass-sided marble staircase and glass-edg...
