Torre de la Horadada is a coastal town located in the province of Alicante, in the Valencian Community, Spain. It is situated on the southernmost tip of the Costa Blanca and is known for its beautiful beaches, clear waters, and relaxed atmosphere. Beaches: The town boasts several stunning beaches with golden sands and crystal-clear waters. Playa de las Higuericas and Playa del Conde are among the most popular ones, offering great spots for swimming, sunbathing, and water sports. Watchtower: The town's name, "Torre de la Horadada," translates to "Tower of the Peephole." It is derived from a historic watchtower, which was built in the 16th century to guard the coastline against pirate attacks. The tower still stands today and is considered a c...
